Right now,

over 100 million cell phones are wasting away in our nation's landfills.

Do something about it.

Donate your old cell phone now.

Did you know? Cell phones contain harmful materials like lead and cadmium that are released as phones break down in landfills. These materials can cause cancer, reproductive disorders and developmental disorders even when released in small quantities.

You can help. Your old cell phone is worth up to $30, depending on the make and model. Don't let that money go to waste. The proceeds from your old phone can help provide seniors in need with meals on wheels, care giving support, health promotion activities and life-long learning.

Phones go to good causes. Collected phones that can't directly be re-used are recycled for the precious metals in the US according to EPA standards. Phones that are destined for re-use are sold around the world to be refurbished and sold back into global markets. During the refurbishment process the memory is flashed to erase all personal data. However, we always recommend that you clear out any sensitive data and remove your SIM card before you recycle your phone.
